Becoming alarmed at her absence Tuesday night, they notified Sheriff Lampkin and a search was made that resulted in the arrest of Martin, who is said to have taken the girl to his hotel and kept her a prisoner in his room. Bootleg Electricity

Is what may be called the wiring done by inexperienced wire men.

Bootlegging is a dangerous business—especially when connected with electricity.

Take no chances—let our experienced wiremen do your work—no matter how small the job is—as sometimes the little jobs cause the most trouble—if not done right.

PESCADERO PEBBLES

From one coast to the other felicitations have been coming in to Mr. C. J. Williamson on the event of his seventy-second anniversary, which occurred Sunday, the 18th.

The reception and supper given in his honor at the Community Center on that day was a wonderful tribute to a wonderful man. An all-star program made up the evening's enjoyment. Mrs. Ed. Weeks held her audience tense with a masterful show of histrionics. Miss Schroeder, with Mrs. H. Steinberg accompanying, was at her best with the violin; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Weeks, and their young son provided a musical treat marked by a display of technique. Mrs. Vierra was in splendid voice, a rich contralto that has about it a wealth of true melody Apart from the entertainment, the local schools, the high and the grammar, made indvidual presentations to Mr. Willamson in well chosen words to which Mr. Williamson replied in expression of appreciation.

Following the entertainment a supper was served by the ladies of the Center. At this Mr. "Bill" Moore, acting as toastmaster, called upon those friends of Mr. Williamson, whose acquaintance ran back anywhere from ten to fifty years, for remarks. The expressions of regard that came as a response were such as only genuine friendship can utter. To them Mr. Williamson replied with a sparkle of wit and humor and heart-whole pleasure that helps to account for the mysterious hold he has on his legion of friends.

For most of us Time struts a heavy, sombre role across our little stage and when he sticks the first white wisp of straw in our thatches, we begin to mark the snow-fall as the years go by, marking the scenes of our doubtful play. But not so with Mr. Williamson. He knows Time's every little trick and turn To him Time is a buyoon, a clown, a jester, who pulls a string somewhere behind the scene and scatters only silver clippings about the stage. The snow-fall may be heavy, but it isn't winter; it's only stage-snow, meaning nothing.

That coast-side shipping is of efficient volume to engage the services of an extra express concern is evidently the opinion of the State Railroad Commission, who recently granted a franchise to the Coast-Side Transportation Company, main offices in Pescadero.

The equipment of the Coast-Side Transportation Company consists of a fine fleet of up-to-the minute express trucks and a number of warehouses situated in the center of the town. Heretofore their hauling was confined to out-going goods only, which meant that the rolling stock had to be "dead-headed" on the return trips in.

Constable Walter Moore is suffering from severe bruises about the body and lacerations about the temples from an heroic attempt to stop a run-a-way team that was carrying Constable Moore's nephew Earle Williamson, the widely-known young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson of this place. The accident occurred up along tre Pescadero creek road Sunday morning, last week. The horses shied from the sight of a slaughtered pig, and swerved along the road at a terrific rate of speed. Walter, who was out of the wagon at the instant, dove for the bridle of one of the flying horses and hung on for the space of a hundred yards or so, when a sudden lunge of the team shook him off, throwing him under the feet and the wheels of the horses and the wagon. In the meantime, Earle, who was vainly tugging at the reins, was hurled with a great force to the ground, but came out of the mishap, much to the relief of everyone, especially, to his uncle, Constabl Moore, uninjured.

Mrs. Moore and daughter, Bernice, visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Frank Williamson Sunday of last week. Miss Moore while here paid a call at the high school, which apparently impressed her very agreeably. At present Bernice holds a prominent position as chairman of the Welfare Committee in charge in the High School of Commerce, San Francisco. In addition to this, Bernice has an academic record of a very high character.

It is reported that Hugh McCormick has purchased a lovely home in Burlingame, the deal having been closed Wednesday last. Whether Hugh and his mother intend to reside there has not been definitely stated, but here's hoping that Pescadero holds them.

Four months ago the members of Bay View Lodge No. 109, I. O. O. F. decided that new blood was necessary for the well-being of the order. Accordingly two teams were selected to secure new members. Stain Hexner secured 27 new members. Captain Schimpf and his warriors secured 23. Therefore the "skiddo" team procured the banquet. It was served Wednesday night at the Civic auditorium and two hundred Odd Fellows partook.

Mrs. Fred Glennan and a number of Rebekahs were in charge and gave an exceedingly good account of their stewartship.

Past District Deputy J. C. Jones acted as toastmaster. Past Grand Master F. D. McBeth of San Francisco spoke and was followed by three local members, C. G. Lambert, W. A. Crowell and Henry Steinberger, who gave pleasing and interesting remarks. The banquet was interpersed with musical selections.

Debating on the Move at Sequoia

Last Saturday a meeting was held that should do much to ward stimulating interest in debating at Sequoia High School. Representatives were present from the high schools of Palo Alto, Pescadero, San Jose and Sequoai, and the Peninsula Debating League was reorganized.

The meeting was the result of letters sent out by Miss Boyle of the English department of Sequoia, to the other schools, asking their cooperation in the reorganization of the league.

Miss Catherine Boyle of Sequoia was elected President of the League, while Miss Grace Wood of San Jose, Mr. Gerlach of Palo Alto, and Mr. Williman of Pescadero were named as Directors. It was decided that each school belonging to the League should pay a fee of five dollars for the year. The officials also decided to adopt the same eligibility rules as are in force in the Peninsula Athletic League. The question of awards and trophies was left to a committee of directors for consideration.

The first series of debates in the League will take place May 21 at which time all the schools will enter teams. Sequoia will meet Pescadero here, and send a negative team to San Jose. Some interesting contests may be expected. The question will be announced shortly.

Much interest in debating was shown by the students representation from the outside schools as well as by Jack Parsons and Albert Davies of Sequoia. This augers well for the future of the League. It is hoped that other high schools will join later.

Mrs. Corrine MacKenzie and her sister, Mrs. Boyle, both of Chico were local visitors Thursday.

SEQUOIA 130'S MAY BE CHAMPS

Sequoia's 130 lb. basket ball team may win the championship of Northern California. They will have the chance next Friday night in the local gym. The contesting team will be from Lick School of Mechanical Arts, San Francisco. The Lick basketteers have won everything in their section and are a heady, husky bunch of players.

It is to be hoped that Sequoia will put its usually consistent contest as we should like to have the Northern California pennant for the rest of the year.

A good crowd should be at the gym next Friday night to cheer the local lads to victory.

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

The Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Iowa, will have rounded out forty years of service in behalf of orphan and destitute children on March 16th. This great institution, known in all parts of the country, has been built up and maintained wholly by the voluntary contributions of the people. It has no other means of support It cares for a daily average of more than two hundred children, received from all parts of the country, and also conducts a hospital department, a department for aged, dependent women, and a depatrment for the crippled and deformed. At present a most serious epidemic of flu has stricken the Home, more than one hundred being sick, many of them seriously. Funds are badly needed to help meet the expense of this onslaught, and to help keep the work from debt. Every department of the institution is crowded, and appeals are made to the people to help. It is hoped that a Fortieth Anniversary offering to this work will relieve a pressing situation which, if long continued, will work serious injury to the Orphanage. C. M. DOXSEE

Mr. C. M. Doxsee, manager of the Geo. H. Rice Abstract Company, will be a candidate for the Grammar School trusteeship at the coming election. Mr. Doxsee was recently appointed trustee to fill a vacancy on the local school board. We believe that a better man than Mr. Doxsee could not be secured for the position. He is an educated business man and is willing to give some of his time for the advancement of public education. Too often, busy business men are unwilling to give their time for such a purpose. We hope that Mr. Doxsee will be unopposed and that the people will give him a large complimentary vote.

THE TOWNER-STERLING BILL

Some time ago a bill was introduced in Congress that should have had the unqualified support of every loyal American; that bill went into committee and has remained there ever since. That was the Towner-Sterling Bill, a measure aimed at the improvement of the Nation's schools, and at forming a national department of schools just as we have a Department of Labor, of Agriculture, etc.

Now we hear on good authority that if an effort is made immediately, the bill will pass. It, therefore, behooves every citizen who values the schools to write to his Representative in Congress and urge him to vote for the Towner Sterling Bill.

THE HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEE

A high school trustee is to be elected March 30th for the Sequoia Union High School. As yet we have heard of no candidate for the place. We do not know whether or not Mr. Greeley, whose term expires, will be a candidate for re-election. We believe though that the successful candidate should be from one of the outlying districts which comprises the high school district. For many years each elementary district in the Union High School district had one representative. The law was changed so that five trustees were selected at large. We believe that geographical location should guide the selection. Redwood City has three of the five members of the Sequoia High School Board. The member to be selected should come from one of the other districts.

THE DAVID OF TODAY

Modern progress is breaking down the barriers of nationalism, creeds and peculiar opinions; progressive influence is also at work through the schools of the nation, and to one who is familiar with the development in the last few years the progress is startling. Everywhere we find the Davids of the new regime opposing the Goliaths of ultra-conservatism; and just as David of old slew his heavily armored and weaponed enemy with a pebble, so are the champions of intellectual freedom stepping forth with no arms other than a few fundamental facts and slaying with these the benighted representaties of obsolete pretentions, false premises and atrophied dogmas. The public school of today is the David of Biblical times and its pebble of thought is sufficient to penetrate the armor of ignorance and superstition and kill the beast of fear that seeks to terrorize the world.

A COMMUNITY OF SHACKS

One cannot but be impressed by the number of shacks that are being built between Redwood City and the Santa Clara line. All along the highway and on Middlefield road little homes are springing up. In sections where beautiful residences have in the past been the places of abode for San Francisco business men, little two and three room houses are being erected on twenty-five foot lots.

Traveling north a short distance we find that beautiful homes are being finished every day in restricted residential sections. Burlingame and San Mateo are fast becoming the most ideal home places to be found. We cannot say the same here. There is a law which gives the closest municipality control over the kind of subdivisions which are to be put upon the market. Redwood City should assert its authority and demand that certain restrictions must be placed upon real estate ventures. We cannot become the home-town place we should be unless some action is taken soon. We know that a large population is desirable, but we should demand that the houses should conform to a certain standard.

TAXES

Did you ever stop to think when you were paying your taxes, what you were paying for? We have heard people grumble because their taxes were high. They should be thankful that they have been so prospered that they have something on which they can pay tax. The more they have to pay the more thankful men and women should be. But are they? Over in Italy now the Facisti are not only proudly paying their taxes but are making gifts to their government as well. When a man buys a ticket to a show he doesn't whine about the awful costs. But when these same people get their tax bills they sputter about the waste, etc., and say that the country is going wild.

But what are their taxes paying? The tax pays for good roads which save their automobile tires and springs. It pays for police protection so that they may sleep and not be maimed or robbed during the night. It pays for street lights that give pleasure and security after the sun has gone. It pays for sewer systems that take away waste materials and protect public health. It maintains mosquito abatement districts. It builds and equips hospitals. It takes care of the aged and poor. It builds schools and provides education for the future citizen. Without these things no man's property would be of any value to him.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

C. A. Dorr, with headquarters at 149 California street, San Francisco, was in our little city last Tuesday looking after the interests of the Railroad Men's Mutual Life Insurance Company. An association organized by and in the interest of railroad men and their families.

Rev. G. A. Blair of Santa Cruz is a visitor at the home of his nephew, W. C. McElray.

Judge Walter M. Bird, the busy court justice of Burlingame, was one of the distinguished visitors at the city hall last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Buneman and their little daughter, Lavelle, left last Monday via the coast line limited for Los Angees, where Mr. Buneman will be engaged for the next three weeks looking after his work as deputy insurance commissioner.

The correspondent for the Sunnyvale Standard has spoken in very high praise of the splendid manner in which one of the talented young women of San Carlos acquitted herself in one of the leading parts of "Polly of the Circus," a play which was staged at the Sunnyvale auditorium by Mrs. Della Mayhew Smith, and her class in oratory and elocution of which Miss Gladys Urch of San Carlos is a member:

"A large and appreciative audience witnessed the presentation on Friday evening of "Polly of the Circus" in recital and dramatization by Mrs. Della Mayhew Smith's class in oratory, assisted by several Sunnyvale's most talented young people.

"It was something unique in this line of work, seldom tried by other than professional artists and the entire case deserve the praise that was given them for their exceptionally clever work. The honors of the evening were equally divided between Mrs. Eva M. Berry, who took the part of Polly in the pathetic incidents of the book; Miss Gladys Urch, who impersonated Polly in her humorous moods and C. R. Altman, who gave a life-like portrayal of Deacon Strong, the typical church member who does not believe in living up to his christian teachings.

"Miss Urch, who is a resident of San Carlos and a private pupil of Mrs. Smith's, is a student in the high school at Redwood City. She is the youngest member of the cast and shows promise of a brilliant future in oratorical work. She has the happy faculty of charming her audience, which is the secret of stage success."

The door receipts of the evening are to be added to the fund for the building of a new M. E. Church, and amounted to $115.00.

Owing to the irregularity and infrequency of our national holidays and the railroad time-tables being adjusted to the same schedule as that for Sundays, a number of our commuters and other travelers found themselves at the railroad station on the morning of Washington's birthday waiting for trains that never came; their regular trains for week days, other than Sundays and holidays. While it was not a very pleasant experience to many of them, some of whom were taking advantage of this patriotic day to catch up with their office work in the city, or to meet their wives or affinities on the other end of the line. Yet it served to impress upon their minds that the 22nd of February was the birthday of "the Father of Our Country" and that the Southern Pacific Company religiously observed the fact, to the extent that that other patriots, who stay at home will permit them. The joke and inconvenience was not so severe to those who were only going to the city, or some local point, as it was to Charlie Wilcox, the old "hoghead" from El Paso, Texas, who has been pulling a fast passenger train between Lordsburg, N. M. and El Paso for years, and who's vacation period had about expired and who was due back on his run the following Monday. Charlie was brought to the station by his old friend Asa Hull, whom he had been visiting, with the expectation of taking local train No. 36 at 7:51, which would get him to San Jose ahead of No. 78, the Shore Line Limited, which he wanted to board for Los Angeles. The chagrin at the slip-up and disappointment was a little more poignant to a railroad man and an old "hoghead," who is expected to have railroad schedules memorized, than it was to our ordinary commuter, who is expected to only know the time of his regular train. However, Charlie caught his train at San Jose by Asa Hull making a record run in his Dodge and luckily dodging all the picnic and peninsula busses and other speedy cars which congest the highway on a holiday. And by escaping all traffic officers enroute. Charlie, who is doubtless back on his job by this time, is to be excused as a railroad man in the fact that trains in his section of the country are so few and far between that they can't afford to observe holidays by suspension of schedule. Many of the old timers of Redwood City and San Mateo county will recall Charlie as the son of Dr. Wilcox, who was in partnership with P. P. Chamberlain in the general merchandise business in Redwood City over forty years ago and whom Mr. Chamberlain succeeded as county treasurer.

Mrs. F. Sherwood, who has been the guest of her aunt Mrs. John Farnham, on Walnut street, has returned to her home at Hayward.

REDWOOD BOOSTERS GATHER AROUND FESTIVE BOARD

Last Monday night one of the most successful banquets ever held for the discussion of an important matter in Redwood City took place in the large dining room of the Sequoia hotel. With more than a hundred of the business men of Redwood City present and many of the residents of the Highlands and Wellesley Park, the meeting was thoroughly representative.

After the banquet had been disposed of, Frank K. Towne, president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce acted as toastmaster and explained the purpose of calling the meeting, that of discussing the proposition of having the town purchase a large tract of land suitable for factory sites.

M. J. Knox, the first speaker to be called on and the original proponent of the idea, spoke very enthusiastically of the matter and told of the wonderful success that met the efforts of other communities in securing factories. Later Mr. Knox read a petition to the board of trustees of the town, requesting them to put the proposition before the people at a special election. This petition was signed by practically all present.

Chas. Lambert then spoke in favor of the proposition, but gave a warning against too much talk and no action. Similiar meetings had been held in the past, said Lambert, and had amounted to nothing, and unless something were done, other meetings would be held with the same purpose in the future.

Other speakers who were enthusiastic over the propspect were H. C. Finkler, Dave Walters, Ben Zimmerman Mark Ryan, R. H. K. Smith, L. P. Behrens, C. M. Doxsee, D. R. Stafford, Guy Clifton, Geo. McNulty and others.

D. E. Graham sounded a note of warning in the matter of stock jobbers who would take advantage of such inducements and would prey upon the people, but upon the assurance of Secretary Smith that the prospective leasees of the sites would be closely examined by the bank, Mr. Graham announced himself as in favor of the plan. A. E. Montieth principal of the grammar schools, suggested that the bond election be put off enough not to interefere with the school bond election next month and spoke in favor of the proposition.

A secret ballot was taken which showed that 99 of the citizens present were in favor of the proposition and only five were against it. The resoluton which was passed read as follows:

To the Honorable, the Board of Trustees of Redwood City,

Gentlemen:

The undersigned petitioners respectfully request that you call a bond election at the earliest possible opportunity, in accordance with the following resolution duly passed at a meeting held Monday, Feruary 26, 1923 at the Sequoia Hotel on the subject of free factory sites.

"Resolved: That this mass meeting of business men of Redwood City, held at Sequoia Hotel, Monday, February 26th, 1923, is heartily in favor of granting free factory sites to responsible factories under proper safeguards, and as an inducement to manufacturers to locate in Redwood City for the purpose of stimulating trade, population and payrolls, and;

Be it Further Resolved: That this meeting by a vote of 99 to 5 respectfully requests the Honorable, the Board of Trustees of Redwood City, to call a special bond election as soon as possible, for the purpose of acquiring suitable acreage for such purpose, and;

Be it Further Resolved: That this meeting commend the action of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce and the Redwood City Commercial Club for their efforts in ascertaining the wishes of the people and furthing the movement, and that a committee representative of both organizations consisting of M. J. Knox, D. D. Williams, R. D. Stafford, P. A. Ryan, D. P. Flynn, present this resolution, accompanied by a petition signed by interested business men present at this meeting, to the Board of Trustees, urging quick action.

When the hyacinths and tulips begin to bloom the place will be a riot of colors and people will see a sight that will most surely be worth while.

BASEBALL SEASON IN FULL SWING

With 49 candidates out for the unlimited and lightweight baseball teams, prospects are bright for a creditable showing in the P. A. L. on the part of Sequoia. The month of March will be spent in practise and preliminary games in preparation for the league season which opens on April 7th. The squad has been divided into four teams and short games will feature each day's workout. On Friday, the Varsity and the Midgets will clash in the first game of the season, Britschgi of last year's team on the mound for the lightweights. Among the veterans on the squad are Captain Scherer, Mitchell, O'Connell, Terremere, Allain, Jones, Thompson, Wentworth and Cloud. Games are being scheduled with Campbell Hi, William Warren, several San Francisco high schools, and the Santa Clara Preps. The Prep game will take place on March 21st on Redwood Field. —The Ikozlan.

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

K. Nado, Menlo Park Japanese, was fined $2 by Police Judge Egerton Lakin, following his arrest by Officer Howard Zink for riding a bicycle at night without a light. Nada runs a fruit store here.

On Tuesday the thermometer stood 76. It was the warmest day experienced in years at this season. Blossoms are shooting out on all sides, filling the air with their fragrance and attracting all eyes by their pretty colors.

A dispatch from Washington on Wednesday would indicate that the Base Hospital is to be reorganized and that it is to be doubled in size. Numerous other buildings are to be erected at once. The grounds around the new structures are lighted at night with electricity, presenting a pretty sight.

During the past year 135 new homes were connected with Bear Gulch Water Company's system, which shows how rapidly this community is growing. Mr. Britton, the superintendent, cannot meet the demands made upon him by proposed rate payers. He says, however, that the rains have filled the big reservoir and that a sufficient supply of water has been secured to meet all demands.

James Britt, who died in San Francisco on Wednesday, did all the plumbing work on St. Patrick's Seminary years ago. His son, Jim, who afterwards became famous as a prize fighter, was his assistant. Both were well known here. The elder Britt was an expert mechanic.

Learn one new thing every day. A little floor oil sprinkled on the baby's dress will keep the floor shining.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore, who spent the winter in the city, will occupy their palatial home on Valparaiso avenue next week.

On Wednesday ground was broken by Archbishop E. J. Hanna for the $20,000 summer home for little children to be erected here Work will be pushed on the building The site for the home is located 250 feet northwest of Santa Cruz avenue and extending on and along Orange to Sherman avenue. The home will be conducted by the Little Children's Aid Society of San Francisco. Mrs. B. M. Breeden, a former resident of this place, is an official of the society and it was mainly through her efforts that he home was located in Menlo Park. During the coming summer about twenty-five children will be accommodated. During the week, Mr. Britton, superintendent of the Bear Gulch Water Company, was instrcted to lay mains to the home at once.

Daniel Dunn Buried this Week

Daniel O'Connell Dunn passed away at his home in University Heights last Monday. Mr. Dunn who was a retired capitalist, was a native of Maine and eighty-three years of age. He came to Menlo Park about eighteen years ago and has resided here continuously since.

Mr. Dunn is survived by one sister, Mrs. M. L. Clark of Menlo Park and four brothers, John, James and Charles Dunn of Wisconsin and Smith Dunn of Minnesota.

The funeral was held last Wednesday, a requiem mass being done in the Church of the Nativity, followed by interment in Santa Clara.

WOODSIDE CHIRPS

These warm spring days have brought out into the open all the hibernating humans of the valley. People you have not seen all winter are conspicuous in their front yards, spading the soil, planting seeds or stringing wires to lead the expected vines in a clambering ramble over the front porch. Darby and Joan together in most of the yards. I wonder if there is any other time in the year when the man and his wife share each other's work and pleasure so much as during the spring gardening.

I saw in a paper recently, a reference to a 'touching scene' wherein two elderly people sat in a moving picture theatre holding each other's hands and renewing the emotions of their youth in the romance of the film drama before them. To one of my peace-loving nature and rural proclivities, it is much more touching to see this elderly couple with backs bowed and hair whitened by care and the years, planting seeds in their garden, planning a rebirth of nature and looking forward not backward, still able to enjoy and willing to help bring about, beauty in the present.

But the humans with their tools of steel are not the only ones burrowing in the soil these days. The moles and gophers have heard or felt the call of Spring and the lawn is dotted with little mounds of black dirt, and the flower garden is criss-crossed with wavy lines showing the course of underground tunnels.

The mole is exclusively a meat eater and one of the most voracious of animals. I had this story told me by a college professor who had a reputation for truth and veracity among his friends. Further than that I do not vouch for it.

He said he had a small mole and a large gopher held for observation purposes in a galvanized iron tub filled with soil and covered with glass. When he left his laboratory on Friday afternoon, he put into the tub 169 fat angleworms to carry his mole over the night, expecting to return on Saturday with fresh supplies for the larder. But other matters prevented his return until Monday morning. Seeing no signs of life, he emptied the tub, and found that every worm had been devoured, the gopher had been killed and eaten and his skeleton scraped clean, and the mole was dead of starvation.

The prevailing color scheme in this region at the present time is fixed by the acacias for they are in full bloom, and which ever way the eye turns it is caught by great splotches of yellow. A most interesting tree is the acacia. Horticulturalists list several hundred varieties, some differing so widely from others that a novice would doubt the slightest relationship between them. This is testimony to the remarkable ability of the plant to adapt itself to its environment. Take for example the Melanoxylon or Blackwood of Australia, which is native of those half desert regions where evaporation must be retarded to conserve the moisture for the plant So the true leaf of the plant has disappeared completely and in its stead we have the enlarged petiole standing with its edge to the sun to reduce evaporation, but furnishing sufficient shade to protect the body of the tree.

It will not be long, however, that the acacia blooms will dominate the color scheme for the prune trees are at the point of bursting into bloom, and when they do, their hillside masses will over-top the more glaring but more scattered yellow of the acacias.

Before the prune blossoms have thrown their petals to the breeze the native mountain broom will have brought its golden reinforcement to the fading yellow of the acacias and along with it will come the glorious purple of the mountain lilac looking at a distance for all the world like a smoky haze hanging along the mountain side.

Subtle humor sometimes is generated on the road. The occupant of lower 10 rang his bell for twenty minutes, having no means of knowing the porter was in the diner. When that functionary returned his indicator showed lower 10 wanted something.

"Cap'n, did yo' ring?"

"No," responded the choleric person. "I have been tolling. I thought you were dead."—Pullman News.

An old negro woman stood by the grave of her husband and said in a mourning tone, "Po' Rasts- I hope he's gone where I spec' he ain't."—New Orleans Lawyer and Banker.

After the clock struck 11:30 the girl's mother called down and asked, "Doesn't that young man know how to say good night?"

"Does he?" she replied, "well, I'll saye he does."

WAR'S TERRIBLE BURDEN

To pay its debt to the United States Great Britain will collect an extra $2.50 every year for sixty-two years on each $100 of income. Probably one-tenth of the English people's income for the next fifty years will be used to pay Britain's share of the cost of the World War

The Mussel Shoals power and industrial project is on the Tennessee river, in the northern part of Alabama. The river offers great possibilities for water power at this point It drops 136 feet in thirty-seven miles; at the steepest section it falls 100 feet in seventeen miles. The Wilson Dam is at the foot of this seventeen miles of steepest fall.

The population of Europe, in 1920, was estimated to be about 475 million. That is about four times the population of the United States.
